Inwesol-
Coaches Training

Session 2

Session 2

Exploring Reality

Session Objectives:

- Acknowledge Ambivalence
  - Recognize and validate any confusion, doubts, or lack of clarity the client is experiencing.

- Re-frame Biased Thoughts
  - Guide them to shift limiting or biased perspectives into more balanced/healthy/positive/hopeful ones.

- Build Motivation for Change
  - Through motivational interviewing, strengthen their inner drive to bring a positive change.

- Reflect on Current Reality
  - With reflective questions, help the client understand and evaluate their present situation.

Session Theme

Motivational Interviewing

A way of guiding conversations so people find their own reasons for change. Instead of giving advice, the coach listens, asks open questions, and reflects what the client says. This builds self-motivation rather than relying on external pressure.

Motivational Interviewing: Key Tenets

1. A collaborative relationship between coach and client:
The coach and client work as partners, respecting each other's perspectives and building trust without judgment.

2. Change usually involves some ambivalence:
It's natural to have mixed feelings about making changes. MI acknowledges and explores these feelings rather than pushing them aside.

3. Developing discrepancy:
Helping the client identify the gap between their current state and their desired outcome, creating motivation for change.

4. Self-efficacy :
Building the client's belief that they're capable of making, sustaining the change they want.

Session Beginning

- Start the session by greeting the client and the breathing exercise.
- Briefly re-cap the previous session.
- Set the goal/context/agenda for the session.
- Explain apt theory if you consider it helpful.
- Explain their scores on the Personality assessment ONLY.
- Always have the client share their screen to show the activity they've completed – this will actively engage them in the session – rather than playing a passive role.

Pros & Cons

- Spend the first part of the session – reflecting on the life collage activity and conducting the pros and cons activity based on the life collages that the client created.

Questions for the session

Questions & Probes

Question 1. What is going on at the moment?

- Probe: Can you share more about what is going on with you right now?
- Probe: What's on your mind? What is bothering you?
- Probe: What are you looking forward to resolving?

Question 2. That sounds difficult, how were you feeling?

- Probe: How were you feeling in that situation?
- Probe: How do you feel about it now?

Questions & Probes

Question 3. Pros & cons activity in the session

- Step 1: Ask the client to take a paper and fold it vertically to make it into 2 halves
- Step 2: Label first side and pros and second side as cons
- Step 3: Review the my life collage activity, with the client
- Step 4: Based on the activity, help the client identify pros of current life and cons of the current life stopping them from working towards their ideal life

Identify and nail down the cons

Question 4. Let's focus on the change you're facing.

- Probe: What are you thinking? Share your thoughts
- Probe: Why are you thinking about this? How will it change things for you?

Questions & Probes

Question 5. What gets in the way?

- Probe: What are the challenges you're facing in resolving this issue?
- Probe: What is your major roadblock in accomplishing this goal?
- Probe: In this process, what is your top priority?

Question 6. What do you usually do when you have difficult and unhelpful thoughts?

- Probe: How do you manage your emotions when you feel this way?
- Probe: Is there something you do to feel better in such situations?
- Probe: What do you do to keep going when you feel down?

Questions & Probes

Question 7. What would it look like if these issues are resolved?

- Probe: Imagine this issue is resolved or this goal is accomplished, how would things look like for you?
- Probe: Imagine this issue is resolved or this goal is accomplished, what would be a major change that you would notice in your life?

Question 8. On a scale of 1 to 10, how do you feel about resolving the issue?

- Probe: How confident do you feel about finding a solution?
- Probe: How motivated do you feel to resolve this issue or accomplish this goal?

Questions & Probes

Question 9. Can you tell me why X and why not X-1 or X-2?

- Probe: Can you tell me what about your current situation made you say X and not X-1?
- Probe: Can you tell me what about your current situation made you say X and not X-2?

Question 10. You want to be at Y. How can you change this?

- Probe: How do you think you can get to Y?
- Probe: What can be your next steps towards Y?
- Probe: How would you know when you're there? What would change?

Questions & Probes

Question 11. What are your key takeaways from this session?

- Probe: Was there anything that we discussed today that made you feel understood or helped you think differently?
- Probe: Did any question or topic today lead you to realize something new?

Always end the session by:

- Summarizing the entire discussion.
- Explaining the activities and assessments to be completed for the next session.
- Agreeing on date/time for the next session.
- Reminding that you can offer support between sessions – related to activities etc.

Activities for Session-3

Activities

1

- My Career Story-2: This is a continuation to the previous My Career Story-1 activity.
- It contains related questions, so its helpful for clients to keep the previous document open while working on the below steps activities.
- The activity focuses on identifying: who the client is, who they are becoming (based on values), what settings do they prefer/enjoy being in, and identifying their interests.

- Note: All assessments and activities are sent to clients via pre-prepared links/forms through email.

Session Checklist

Before Session	During Session	Post Session	Other Remarks
➢ Score RIASEC assessment and review results ➢ Score Personality assessment and review results ➢ Review the 'My Life Collage' Activity	➢ Guided meditation + recap ➢ Pros & Cons activity ➢ Discuss challenges ➢ The need for change (motivation) ➢ Reflect & Summarize ➢ Explain the personality assessment scores only ➢ Explain the My Career Story-2 activity for session-3	➢ Share session summary ➢ Share activities and assessments for the next session ➢ Send reminders for scheduling the next session ➢ Send reminders for completing the activity	➢ Identify if the exhibits/shares issues that indicate a need for therapy

Next Steps...

- Note down any questions and queries you may have for the C3 Lab.
- Watch the session-2 recording of a real time client.
- While watching the session recordings - keep the session questions open on one side and observe how questions are strategically used to achieve the objective of the session.
- Plan and facilitate the Preliminary session for a friend/family member.
- Record the session and reflect. Share it with Buddy Mentor for feedback.